

Project Next Generation

Hayner Public Library at Alton Square Mall

Are you the next great explorer?

Do you like trying what no one else has tried?

Are you ready to be the first?

Then Project Next Generation at Hayner Public Library may be just what you're seeking!

We'll be offering a program that will combine a study of firsts in aviation with how technology has changed the world of flight. Using geo-caching, a sport that's growing in leaps and bounds, we'll learn about local Lindbergh sites while searching for hidden caches in the Riverbend area. This session will include a trip to see a stage production about Amelia Earhart at the Missouri History Museum, which also has an ongoing exhibit about Lindbergh.

If you like exploring, enjoy adventure, and like learning about new technologies, this is for you!

- Tracking Lindbergh
- Geo-caching
- Creating with computers
- Live theater

Dates to set aside: 3/16/10 through 4/15/10 (Tuesdays and Thursdays)
