The May and June programs listed in the Spring 2020 newsletter are also subject to cancellation should circumstances dictate. Please refer to the library’s main phone line, program registration line, website, and Facebook page for updates regarding library programming. StoryWalk® Returns to Hayner Library

Please note: This is the only program still scheduled to be held in April, 2020. Please call our general number (618) 4620-677 to confirm occurrence of this event or check our website at www.haynerlibrary.org.

To celebrate this wonderful new program, Hayner Library and The Nature Institute invite families to join us for a StoryWalk® kickoff celebration on Sunday, April 19, 2020, from 2:00—4:00 p.m., at The Nature Institute. Families are invited to walk the Frog Trail, read the story, have a snack, and make a craft. The first 30 families to walk the trail will receive a copy of the StoryWalk® book.

Hayner Library invites families to enjoy our new StoryWalk® located on the Frog Trail at The Nature Institute, 2213 S. Levis Lane, Godfrey, IL. The trail is approximately one mile in length and is located behind the Talahi Lodge. Visitors are encouraged to stop at the first storyboard and use a smartphone to scan the QR code, located at the bottom of the introduction page. Scanning the QR code will help the library keep track of participation in the program. A new story will be displayed each month from April through November. Please note that all trails at The Nature Institute are closed December through March.

Food for Fido

Help Us Help Them

Do you have Hayner Library materials that are still checked out and are embarrassingly overdue? Do you keep getting notices in the mail and are scared of what your fine is? Breathe a sigh of relief, from April 1 through April 30, if you have an overdue item, you may pay your fine with an item of pet food. This amnesty applies to Hayner materials only. Library materials must be returned with the donation and at least one donation made for each fine.

All the donations will go to our furry friends residing at the 5-A’s Animal Shelter. The devoted staff in this no-kill shelter relies entirely on donations to provide proper care to the adoptable animals that have been abandoned, neglected, or abused...animals like Melissa and Karma (pictured above). For more information about this worthy organization, call (618) 466-3702, visit their website at www.fiveas.org, visit their Facebook page, or pay them a visit at 4530 N. Alby St. in Godfrey.
2020 Census is Here—Be Sure You Are Counted!

April 1, 2020 is Census Day! By the end of March, you should have received the census questionnaire or a letter to respond online. If you have not filled out the census questionnaire, now is the time to do so. Starting in May, the U.S. Census Bureau will begin in-person follow-up visits with households who have yet to respond. Hayner Library has public access computers available for your use in filling out the form online.

Why it Matters—

Illinois has lost population since the last census count, making it vitally important that everyone in the state is counted. The number of your congressional representatives and the size of your geographic districts will be impacted by your participation in the census.

Every person counted is equal to $2,000 in funding to our community every year, for ten years!

Data from the census helps determine how over $675 billion in federal funds is allocated to states and local communities for housing, schools, food assistance, health care, and other vital services.

Will I be asked about my citizenship? No. The courts have permanently blocked adding a citizenship question to the 2020 Census.

Remember—

Responding fulfills your civic duty. The United States Constitution mandates that a census be taken every ten years. Everyone counts! This includes babies born on or before April 1, 2020, children, and all persons living in your household at the time of the census. Federal law protects your census responses. Your answers can only be used to produce statistics. By law, your census responses cannot be used against you by any government agency (that includes the FBI, CIA, ICE, and Homeland Security) or court in any way, or allow it to be used to determine your government benefits.

For more information, please visit https://2020census.gov/.

2020 Census
Avoiding Scams: Tips to Keep You Safe

The U.S. Census Bureau will never send unsolicited emails to request your participation in the 2020 Census.

They will never ask for:

• Your Social Security number
• Your bank account or credit card numbers
• Money or donations

They will also never contact you on behalf of a political party.

If someone is sent to your house to collect your 2020 Census response, make sure that they have a valid ID badge with their photo, a U.S. Department of Commerce watermark, and an expiration date.

If you are unsure, call 1-800-923-8282 to speak with a local U.S. Census Bureau representative. You may also call 1-800-923-8282 to report other forms of suspected census fraud.

Information You Can Use: Protect Yourself from Social Security Scams

Scammers are people pretending to be someone they aren’t—in this case, employees of the Social Security Administration. Scammers will try to scare and trick you into giving them your personal information and money. They may threaten you or your family and may demand immediate payment to avoid arrest or other legal action. Don’t be fooled!

If you receive a suspicious call:

• Hang up
• Do not give them money or personal information
• Report the scam at oig.ssa.gov

There are certain situations in which the Social Security Administration may call or email you. However, they will never:

• Threaten you
• Suspend your Social Security number
• Demand immediate payment
• Require payment by cash, gift card, pre-paid debit card, or wire transfer
• Ask for gift card numbers over the phone or to wire or mail cash

What to look out for:

• The call or email indicates there is a problem with your Social Security number or account.
• The call or email asks you to pay a fine or debt with retail gift cards, wire transfers, pre-paid debit cards, internet currency, or by mailing cash.
• Scammers pretend they’re from Social Security or another government agency. Caller ID or documents sent by email may look official but they are not.
• Callers threaten you with arrest or other legal action.

Protect yourself, friends, and family! If you receive a questionable call, hang up and immediately report the call to oig.ssa.gov. Don’t be embarrassed to file a report if you shared personal information or suffered a financial loss. Learn more at oig.ssa.gov/scam.

What’s in Reference: Federal Writers’ Project

During the Great Depression, a series of guide books, the American Guide Series, were compiled by the Federal Writers’ Project. Historians and many non-historians traveled from state to state, writing guides to the forty-eight states. The culture, people, history, and points of interest of each state—from early beginnings through the 1930s—are contained in these books, complete with photographs and illustrations. Hayner Library holds a partial set of the American Guide Series in the Reference department.

Bold measures were taken to boost the morale of people suffering during the Great Depression. With the unemployment rate at 25 percent, government-run programs were developed to lift Americans up from poverty. One of the many programs created by President Franklin D. Roosevelt was the Works Progress Administration (WPA). By 1943, when the program was terminated, the WPA and its joint agencies, such as the Civilian Conservation Corps (CCC), and the Federal Writers’ Project (FWP), had hired more than 8.3 million Americans to work on special projects. The WPA helped millions of desperate Americans survive the 1930s.

The Federal Writers’ Project employed historians, teachers, writers, librarians, and other white-collar workers. At its peak in 1935, almost seven thousand writers, researchers, and librarians were employed by the WPA. Most of those working on the project were not writers, however some would become famous authors, such as Ralph Ellison, Richard Wright, John Steinbeck, and Zora Neale Hurston. They captured America’s voice during a time of crisis through a collection of folklore, oral histories, slave narratives, and state guide books.

Laborers were employed to work on infrastructure projects. The magnitude of their accomplishment is stunning: 631,087 miles of highways, streets, and roads were built or repaired; 124,031 bridges were constructed or repaired; 125,110 public buildings, 8,192 parks, and 853 airport landing fields were built.1 Many of these structures are still standing today. That we can enjoy Pere Marquette State Park in Grafton is the outcome of this accomplishment. That we can enjoy Pere Marquette State Park in Grafton is the outcome of the hardworking efforts of these individuals.

Out of despair from the Great Depression, human ingenuity and resourcefulness flourished—leaving lasting legacies for us to enjoy.

Illinois Heartland Library System Library Crawl 2020

The second annual Illinois Heartland Library System (IHLS) Library Crawl took place in January and was a tremendous success! The library crawl was a great way for patrons within the Illinois Heartland Library System to visit each other's libraries and to experience the wide array of library programming, collections, and services available in our state.

Participants in the program were encouraged to pick up an IHLS passport at any participating library, have their passport stamped by at least five participating libraries, and then turn in their passport to their home library, where they would be entered into a grand prize drawing. Each Hayner Library grand prize winner received copies of the books Bibliophile by Jane Mount, The Great American Read: The Book of Books: Explore America’s 100 Best Loved Novels, and Read ’Em and Eat: The Hayner Public Library District Cookbook.

Our staff had a wonderful time talking with patrons from surrounding libraries who visited Hayner Library during the library crawl. We hope to see everyone again next year!

Behind the Scenes: The Interlibrary Loan Department

The Interlibrary Loan department has two jobs: To send out materials from the Hayner Library collection that have been requested by patrons of other libraries and to check-in materials from other libraries that have been requested by Hayner patrons. This job may sound easy but it's exhaustingly hard work!

Just how exhausting is it? In 2019, the Interlibrary Loan department (which consists of two full-time and two-part time employees) sent out 65,003 items to other libraries. This breaks down to an average of 5,416 items per month—or roughly 180 items per day! Hayner Library patrons requested 62,258 interlibrary loan items from other libraries in 2019—an average of 5,188 items per month, or approximately 172 items per day. These figures do not include the hundreds of Hayner Library items returned to our library through our daily courier delivery.

The Interlibrary Loan department’s day is a perfectly choreographed chain of activity: collecting, sorting, arranging, activating, and shelving interlibrary loan items. Each morning this department hits the ground running, a pace that is maintained until the last requested item is placed on the hold shelf.

We are tremendously proud of this small but vital department. Their behind-the-scenes hard work is an essential part of library service to Hayner Library patrons and the patrons of other Illinois Heartland Library System libraries.
