

THE HAYNER PUBLIC LIBRARY DISTRICT
GENEALOGY & LOCAL HISTORY LIBRARY
MISSION STATEMENT AND COLLECTION POLICY

MISSION STATEMENT

The mission of the Genealogy & Local History Library is to preserve materials that document the history and genealogy of Alton, Illinois, with an expanded focus on Madison County and further including the entire state of Illinois. Special consideration is given to the St. Louis, Missouri region due to the geographic proximity of that area. Special attention is given to materials on Abraham Lincoln. Genealogical resource materials will encompass items with a worldwide scope while still retaining a major focus on Illinois. The Genealogy & Local History Library will provide a quiet and comfortable environment for researchers and historians.

PURPOSE AND SCOPE OF THE LOCAL HISTORY AND GENEALOGY COLLECTIONS

The Illinois Room collection, located in the Genealogy & Local History Library, will be assembled with a variety of materials on topics, events, activities, and people significant to our local geographic region. The major emphasis of the collection is historical, but also includes current information about The Hayner Public Library District and surrounding area, Madison County, extending to the entire state of Illinois, and including parts of our bi-state area and beyond. Current information today will become tomorrow's historic treasure, and therefore, must be preserved. Subject areas in the history collection may include, but are not limited to, materials on early settlers, ethnic groups, geographic traits, geographic histories, regional encyclopedias, atlases, maps, information on businesses, information on work, government, laws and regulations, and prominent individuals and events, as well as works by community members. Preservation of books and materials in the Genealogy & Local History Library is a priority.
